

Portable Qualified Clinic

The Althing Portable Clinic is a qualified clinical service that you can pickup and take home, schedule for use or have delivered to your location in minutes. The clinic includes the Phrazer/Kitsune engagement platform, a roster of ready providers, medical sensor kit and its own network.

When qualified medical engagements are initiated and live service is authorized by the user, a medical professional is immediately part of the information flow. This happens from home, in transit, at work or anywhere in the community.

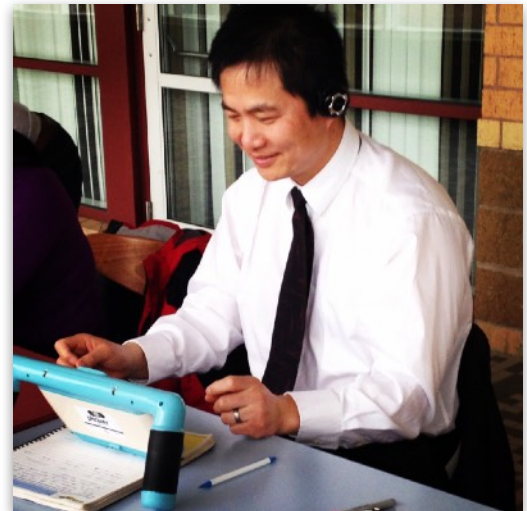

No matter the language or literacy of the user, as they perform a medical assessment with Phrazer/Kitsune, the resulting information is privately conveyed to their care provider in realtime. This process is highly efficient and foundational to a live consultation.

Upon concluding the assessment(s), the medical staff then (with user authorization) is able to appear on-screen for a private, immediate and effective consultation.

Through this new technology and method a qualified clinical encounter can happen at home, work, after hours, in transit and nearly anywhere help is needed. The clinic is convenient, works with your insurance, its efficient and reliable.

Call for delivery is a new option. Any time of day you may call and have an Althing Portable Clinic delivered to you for immediate and qualified care.
